
Title: Tablet of Inequities

Author: Ezerak

A blackened skull with hollowed eyes stares out from the cover of the book.

The Skull has spoken through its vessel of Lord Nizar now bequeaths unto ye the paths of the void. Gholad, Ghurlag, Ghorlon, Grahad art all equal none being greater than the other; accept the unrighteous and the taint of the void with thine soul. Embrace the beckoning of the Ebon Skull for its truths art greater than thine perceived reality.

Blessed be the Ebon Skull for it is which all power flows through.

We art the children of the Skull thusly take heed to words with which is now recorded as by the command of Lord Nizar.

If ye value thine right
cut off thine right hand as homage, this act will lead thine being down the path of accepting the blessing of the Path of Gholad the Entropic force.

If ye cherish thine first born disembowel it upon the alters of the Temple to please the Skull, this act will lead thine existence down the road of obtaining the miracles of the Path of Ghurlag, giving ye the power to channel the pure void of Oblivion.

If thine family among the Skull waver in their
taking them from the eyes of the Skull, this act will lead thine soul to the Path of Ghorlon the most favored road of the Avatar of Death, which is righteousness unto the Skull.

If thine brother offends ye slay him where he stands for the Skull takes pity upon him and his soul begs for this release, this act will lead ye and thine brother down the Path of Grahad giving all the release unto Oblivion.

Contemplate, Children of the Skull and hear the words of the Four Paths, for they art the stones at the bottom of the building bringing ye to understand the Inequities.
